

CHAD TOMASELLI
CURRICULUM VITAE

Department of History
Grayson College
E-Mail: tomasellic@grayson.edu

EDUCATION

- M.A.                                      Midwestern State University
History, May 2010
Thesis: Talleyrand and Napoleon: A Contest of Statecraft, Subterfuge, and Foreign Policy
Committee Members: Dirk Lindemann (Chair), Michael Collins, James King
- B.A.                                      Midwestern State University
History, May 2007

ACADEMIC POSITIONS

- |  |  |
|--|--|
| Grayson CollegeHonors College                    | August 2018 – PresentHonors College Coordinator    |
| Grayson CollegeDepartment of History             | August 2015 – PresentHistory Professor             |
| Grayson CollegeDepartment of History             | August 2014 – August 2015History Adjunct           |
| University of North TexasDepartment of History   | August 2014 – May 2015History Department Librarian |
| University of North TexasDepartment of History   | August 2012 – May 2014Teaching Fellow              |
| University of North TexasDepartment of History   | August 2011-May 2014Teaching Assistant             |
| Midwestern State UniversityDepartment of History | August 2008-May 2010Graduate Assistant             |

COURSES TAUGHT

- United States History from Colonization to the Reconstruction Era (Online, Hybrid, Dual Credit, and Honors)
United States History from Reconstruction to the Present (Online, Hybrid, Dual Credit, and Honors)
Western Civilization from the 16th Century to the Present
World History from Early Civilization to the 16th Century (Online, Hybrid, and Honors)
World History from the 16th Century to the Present (Online, Hybrid, and Honors)

PUBLICATIONS

“The Little Expedition That Could, Then Did Not, Joachim Murat’s Sicilian Invasion, 1808-1810,” in Consortium on the Revolutionary Era, 1750-1850: Selected Papers 2013 (2016) 119-36.

SCHOLARLY PRESENTATIONS

“Hello [Insert Country Here] My Old Friend: Joachim Murat, Naples, and the Propaganda of New Alliances, 1813-1815,” Society of Military History, Montgomery, AL, April 2015

“War and Society in the Kingdom of Naples, 1806-1815,” Society of Military History, Kansas City, MO, April 2014

“The Little Expedition That Could, Then Did Not, Joachim Murat’s Sicilian Invasion, 1808-1810,” Consortium on the Revolutionary Era, Fort Worth, TX, February 2013

“To Messina We Go, Eventually: Joachim Murat, Napoleon, and the Failed Expedition to Sicily, 1808 – 1810,” Central Texas Military History Symposium, Killeen, TX, August 2012

“Murat, Napoleon, and the Marshalate: A Military or Familial Promotion?” Consortium on the Revolutionary Era, Baton Rouge, February 2012

“A Comedy of Friendship: Talleyrand, Alexander I, and Napoleon at the Congress of Erfurt, 1808,” Southwestern Social Science Association, Denver, March 2009

“The Treaties of Tilsit: The Diplomatic Beginning of the End for Napoleon,” Southwestern Social Science Association, Houston, March 2008

ARCHIVAL RESEARCH

Italy, Archivio di Stato di Napoli; Biblioteca Nazionale di Napoli, 2012

France, Archives Nationales de Paris, Archives des Affaires Etrangères, 2012

GRANTS AND AWARDS

Outstanding Teaching Fellow in History (2013-2014 Academic Year)

Merle Anthony Fellowship, Midwestern State University (Spring 2009)

Eagle Scout (Spring 1999)

OTHER ACADEMIC SERVICE

Fellow of Massena Society, 2012-16

Fellow of University of North Texas Military History Center, August 2010-Present

President-Tau Gamma chapter-Phi Alpha Theta History Honors Society, Midwestern State University, 2009-10

Member of Phi Alpha Theta History Honors Society, 2009-2011

LANGUAGES (READING PROFICIENCY ONLY UNLESS OTHERWISE NOTED)

French, Italian